The group pictured at Waverley Abbey near Farnham last month. You will notice that Andy appears on both sides of the camera, thanks to some skill with Photoshop! More photos to follow.....

Our next monthly meeting is due to take place on Thursday 14th May. Unfortunately I will be away but Suzy has very kindly offered to mind the shop while I am slumming it in Corfu. She will message you all with some suggested plans. As the summer has arrived I would also like to organise some evening meetings with the first on 28th May, possibly at Westbourne. Details to follow.

Our theme for this month has been "Ground Level".

The randomly drawn theme for May will be "Empty Spaces". This could of course apply to the wide open countryside but equally to the artistic concept of Negative Space. There is more information about this subject online than any sane person could possibly wish for but here is a link to the Wikipedia page.

In the meantime a couple of examples of negative space.....
